

E.Funkhouser New York: rather funky

E.Funkhouser is a range of cosmetics from extravagant make-up artist Eddie Funkhouser. The range includes a beautifully packaged range of colours that span every colour of the rainbow.

The range includes everything from essential tools, to brow defining powder to gorgeous multi-shade bronzing powders (which look too good to use). I have tried out not one, but four of the E.Funkhouser nail colours - and I have to report that these are rather fabulous!

The four-pack contains the following shades- clear, pearlescent white, shimmering baby blue and bright metallic purple. The shades glide on smoothly and leave nails looking manicure-perfect. The coloured shades do need a couple of coats to leave a gorgeous shimmery and even shade. But once on the colours last around 3-4 days with no chipping.

The clear varnish doubles up as a base and top coat to give the colour a bit more staying power. For a unique look you could paint the nail with the bright metallic purple, and then the tips with the white- for a modern alternative to the WAG-classic French manicure.

Go to <http://www.efunkhouser.com/> to find out more about the range. The set of four colours are priced £13.95