As per usual, I'm always on the hunt for new products to test and try. This week I've been checking out a few bits from E.Funkhouser. I first discovered E.Funkhouser randomly, when I was given one of their lipsticks in a fashion press party goodie bag. After I noticed the products were listed as E.Funkhouser-New York... ( yes that little bit of home for this NYC girl in London is a touch of comfort) I thought I'd investigate the range further. I like the clean, almost clinical white packaging; it's a nice change of pace from the hordes of black boxed cosmetics. My favourite product from the latest collection named "Paramount" was the Shimmering body glitter duo set called Acclaim/Brillance - a baby pink and white. To make the product pop, I suggest you use a thick body moisturiser like Palmer's cocoa butter on your arms or legs first, then sprinkle a touch of this glittering dust on top. Dazzling looking skin for a Summer's night out on the town. Other products to check out are the eyelash primer (helps build up volume for lashes) & the mascara that comes with a mini lash comb.
